

Amelia

Write a message to your future self here. You may want to note down something you want to remember about the lecture/workshop, and comment on how you plan to use what you've learned.

- read the story of an African farm
- think more about modernism when critically reading

↓
+ signs of modernism:

stream of consciousness
narrative fragmentation
'make it new'
alienation

Contact data is stored securely by the University of Salford in accordance with GDPR. We will not use your contact email for any purpose or pass to third parties. Please be aware that quotes from the postcards may be used for research purposes (for example in research journal articles, published on an academic blog, or used to evidence research impact in university and public reports). Please only send the postcard if you are happy for your anonymous/anonymised comments to be used in this way. Your postcards will be returned to you via your teacher/s in 4-12 weeks' time for reflection, and you will then be invited to complete a short survey to find out if you were able to use what you learned. Any questions? Get in touch: southafricanmodernism@salford.ac.uk

Write a message to your future self here. You may want to note down something you want to remember about the lecture/workshop, and comment on how you plan to use what you've learned.

- modernism is in old things, guess
- systematic sexism
- ~~systematic~~ Gender oppression is only a thing because white men created it; in Africa it wasn't a thing

Contact data is stored securely by the University of Salford in accordance with GDPR. We will not use your contact email for any purpose or pass to third parties. Please be aware that quotes from the postcards may be used for research purposes (for example in research journal articles, published on an academic blog, or used to evidence research impact in university and public reports). Please only send the postcard if you are happy for your anonymous/anonymised comments to be used in this way. Your postcards will be returned to you via your teacher/s in 4-12 weeks' time for reflection, and you will then be invited to complete a short survey to find out if you were able to use what you learned. Any questions? Get in touch: southafricanmodernism@salford.ac.uk

Write a message to your future self here. You may want to note down something you want to remember about the lecture/workshop, and comment on how you plan to use what you've learned.

Thank you! ☺

Contact data is stored securely by the University of Salford in accordance with GDPR. We will not use your contact email for any purpose or pass to third parties. Please be aware that quotes from the postcards may be used for research purposes (for example in research journal articles, published on an academic blog, or used to evidence research impact in university and public reports). Please only send the postcard if you are happy for your anonymous/anonymised comments to be used in this way. Your postcards will be returned to you via your teacher/s in 4-12 weeks' time for reflection, and you will then be invited to complete a short survey to find out if you were able to use what you learned. Any questions? Get in touch: southafricanmodernism@salford.ac.uk

Write a message to your future self here. You may want to note down something you want to remember about the lecture/workshop, and comment on how you plan to use what you've learned.

Dear Anaya

- Read the Story of an African Farm by Olive Schreiner
- Interrelation between patriarchal and colonial power
- look at modernism
 - fragmentation
 - stream of consciousness
 - irony
 - groups

Contact data is stored securely by the University of Salford in accordance with GDPR. We will not use your contact email for any purpose or pass to third parties. Please be aware that quotes from the postcards may be used for research purposes (for example in research journal articles, published on an academic blog, or used to evidence research impact in university and public reports). Please only send the postcard if you are happy for your anonymous/anonymised comments to be used in this way. Your postcards will be returned to you via your teacher/s in 4-12 weeks' time for reflection, and you will then be invited to complete a short survey to find out if you were able to use what you learned. Any questions? Get in touch: southafricanmodernism@salford.ac.uk

Lily

Write a message to your future self here. You may want to note down something you want to remember about the lecture/workshop, and comment on how you plan to use what you've learned.

It is important to consider how different sectors of the 'colonised' experience oppression differently - particularly in terms of race, gender, ethnicity and class.

Olive Schreiner
Solomon Plaatje

Contact data is stored securely by the University of Salford in accordance with GDPR. We will not use your contact email for any purpose or pass to third parties. Please be aware that quotes from the postcards may be used for research purposes (for example in research journal articles, published on an academic blog, or used to evidence research impact in university and public reports). Please only send the postcard if you are happy for your anonymous/anonymised comments to be used in this way. Your postcards will be returned to you via your teacher/s in 4-12 weeks' time for reflection, and you will then be invited to complete a short survey to find out if you were able to use what you learned. Any questions? Get in touch: southafricanmodernism@salford.ac.uk

Write a message to your future self here. You may want to note down something you want to remember about the lecture/workshop, and comment on how you plan to use what you've learned.

To Anisha,

I've learnt about modernism.

Contact data is stored securely by the University of Salford in accordance with GDPR. We will not use your contact email for any purpose or pass to third parties. Please be aware that quotes from the postcards may be used for research purposes (for example in research journal articles, published on an academic blog, or used to evidence research impact in university and public reports). Please only send the postcard if you are happy for your anonymous/anonymised comments to be used in this way. Your postcards will be returned to you via your teacher/s in 4-12 weeks' time for reflection, and you will then be invited to complete a short survey to find out if you were able to use what you learned. Any questions? Get in touch: southafricanmodernism@salford.ac.uk