

Wilding the City: Outputs and Contextual Information

This multi-component output comprises three outputs:

- a) An 'intermedial article', titled 'It's Cowboy Country Up There': ruination and ruinenlust in the wilds of Broughton' (Item 3)
- b) A 'digital postcard', titled 'New Processes for Digital Encounters with Wild, Green Spaces', comprising a written postcard, audio track, video and prompts for activity (Items 4 and 5)
- c) An audio-walk, titled 'Peel Park and the Meadows Wild Walk' (Item 6)

Please engage with the materials in the following order:

- 1. Read Item 1: 300-word statement
- 2. Read through Item 2: Research Timeline
- 3. Read/watch/listen to Item 3: 'It's cowboy country up there'
- 4. Read Item 4: First part of Digital Postcard, inviting participants to Item 5
- 5. Read/watch/listen to Item 5: Second part of Digital Postcard - 'New processes for digital devices in wild green spaces'
- 6. Listen to Item 6: 'Peel Park and the Meadows Wild Walk'
- 7. Read through Item 7: 'Contexts, processes, findings' presentation
- 8. Item 8 - Appendix: This includes links to documentation of practices and presentations carried out in both phases of the research